Issue 638 - MARCH 2024
CONNECTING WITH LOVE, UNITY AND SERVICE

Connecting with Love, Unity & Service

The theme of our convention from March 15-17 at the Westchester Marriott is "Connecting with Love, Unity & Service." In this upcoming convention, we step away from the chaos and clamor of the world to renew our friendship, solidarity, and love. It serves as a reminder that with the help of our Higher Power, our collective action and shared experiences are our greatest tools. We can find comfort and strength in the sacredness of this fellowship, strengthening our commitment to our primary purpose.

This convention should serve as a testament to the incredible diversity in our community. "We are people who normally wouldn't mix." But here we are, standing united with our common struggles and shared solution. The companionship, friendships, and understanding that blossom amongst us are truly, indescribably wonderful. The unique bond allows us to reach out to other suffering alcoholics with love, empathy, and honesty.

As we convene, we carry with us the collective wisdom and experience of our community. We understand that the recovery journey is not a solitary endeavor but a collaborative effort. Through our shared stories, struggles, and successes, we find the strength to continue our work. In doing so, we offer a beacon of hope, not just for those grappling with alcoholism but for a world in search of solutions to its myriad of challenges.

We always make it a point when attending conventions to ensure we attend the recovery and spiritual based workshops because we "love" those. Do something different this year, take an opportunity to visit workshops and panels that you probably never attended before because they are involved with service. Take an opportunity to speak with others that are involved in service. You will find our current delegate, past delegates, regional trustees, and employees of GSO in attendance. Some of these people will be our speakers. Make it a point to speak with them and ask their suggestions on doing service. You may be amazed at how much you identify with their journey and how this may inspire you to be of maximum service below the group level.

In conclusion, our convention is more than just a gathering. It's a celebration of hope. A reaffirmation of our shared journey and a reminder of our Three Legacies. Let's hold fast to the principles that unite us as we move forward fostering an environment of support, understanding, and enduring challenge. Let us continue to be of maximum service to all as long as He will have us.

Connecting with Love, Unity and Service

How do we connect with Love, Unity and Service? I noticed over the last couple of years there has been a lot of conflict in our fellowship. Changes have been made and many were for the changes but there were also many against. I have heard a lot of people comment about disunity in A.A. I think we should all take a look at these three concepts which help guide us. When I started attending meetings, I heard people share “let us love you until you learn to love yourself.” I have found the love goes way beyond that. I ethe driving force that comforts me and helps me to feel confident. I also heard “if you don’t have a higher power, you can borrow mine until you find one.” Could I share my higher power if I didn’t love my fellow members? One thing I learned from my experience in A.A. is that I don’t have to like you, but I can learn from anyone, and I love that part about everyone.

With that comes the unity that holds our fellowship together. Can I have a different opinion than you but respect your right to your opinion? I certainly can. We form a group conscience and vote for what we believe is best for A.A. as a whole. In another Link article, I talk about Tradition 2. Why am I talking about Tradition 2 again? Remember, our Traditions are what unifies us, and Tradition 2 remind us of the

I never knew what love was until I came to Alcoholics Anonymous. Not right away of course. It took quite some time. What I found out over time was that I had to learn to love myself first before having the ability to love others – to have patience and tolerance and show kindness. Once I was capable of doing that for me, I was able to do that with everyone else. I never used to like people, and now I feel unity when I’m in a meeting, sharing, setting up and helping others. It’s an amazing feeling that I would not have experienced had it not been for A.A.

Does anyone remember the blackout of 2003? I’ll never forget it. I was working in the city at the time. I walked from my office, and I wound up sitting on some subway steps right across the street from Penn Station. There was nowhere to go. Suddenly, an angel appeared out of nowhere. She sat with me on the subway steps. We both knew we weren’t ultimate authority “God as He may express Himself in our group conscience.” I can accept that God is in the mix and all will be well.

Now about service. As many of you know and have witnessed, I am a service junkie. I am always trying to figure out what else I can do to “pay back” A.A. for this wonderful life I have been gifted. A life beyond my wildest dreams. The best part about this deal is the overwhelming sense of accomplishment I feel afterward. There is no high like it. I look forward to attending events, mostly because I get to fellowship with people I know and friends I haven’t met yet. We are social creatures and the joy I get from socializing carries me through times when things aren’t going so great.

Can we connect with Love Unity and Service? As long as the ties that bind us together are stronger than the ones that will pull us apart, all will be well. Our experience has shown us that we are strong, resilient and persistent. We can get through anything if we stick together.

Jo Ann M., Delegate Area 49

going anywhere. Her and I stuck together. We were taking care of each other. I remember we both had to use the restroom, so we went to the nearest bar. We stayed together the whole time and went back to those subway steps. Somehow, it just felt safe for the both of us. Finally, her husband came and picked her up and was kind enough to give me a ride back to Queens. Although they lived in the Bronx, they dropped me off at Elmhurst Hospital. Oh, did I mention that she gave me $20 for a taxi from the hospital?

An amazing story, right? I never saw that woman again. But from our short time together, I realized how much I had learned from that stranger. No matter what, no matter how much time it takes, we show all people love, we unite and become one and we do service to remember that without A.A. we would not be who we are and without all of you, I would not be the woman I am.

You see that’s what it’s all about – connecting with Love, Unity, & Service! So, thank you.

Remember,
love is both a noun & a verb;
not only a feeling,
but also an action.

It's not enough to simply hold love in your heart,
you must also give it
fire and voice.
